Petnica Science Center, Petnica, Valjevo, Yugoslavia

Abstract. For the last fifteen years Petnica Science Center stands as a unique institution devoted to introducing into scientific research the high-school students and to expansion of their knowledge beyond the scholar curriculum. Astronomy was always paid a great attention to in Petnica, and the activities in this field developed over years: from summer camps of few enthusiasts to organized two-year courses. Prospects for astronomy program in Petnica Science Center are especially looking bright after the expected completion of astronomical observatory later this year.
