

CONDITIONALITY OF THE ORIENTATION OF THE ROMAN IMPERIAL PALACE IN TIMOK, TEMPLES AND CONSECRATIVE OBJECTS, TOWARDS THE SUN

One makes an attempt to discover the rules of orientation in space towards the Sun and, in accordance with this, the calendrical and astronomical rules that were inextricably woven into secular state history and then to decipher these rules, magically hidden in the architectural structures of imperial palaces in the Timok and to read calendar data, historical chronology, times of the sacralization and construction of temples.

Key words: Tribals, Timok, Roman emperors, Galerius, Licinius, Daia, Romuliana - Gamzigrad, Sharkamen