

SPACE – TIME IN THE LITERATURE

Fundamental categories of the theory of literature and literary works are analysed in relation to the physical category space – time. It is concluded that different standpoints – positions of the storyteller also represent different aspects of space – time which coincide with the fundamental laws of the contemporary physics and cosmology.