

HISTORY OF SERBIAN SCIENCE FICTION

This paper briefly presents the history of Serbian science fiction, from the second half of the nineteenth century to today. The most important individual works - novels, short stories, critics and essays are considered. The history of Serbian science fiction consists of three phases that are presented in brief.

Of course that this review is incomplete, but this subject will be enriched additionally in the future with all those important points, which in this text are missing.