

REMEMBRANCE ON MILORAD PROTITCH

Milorad Protitch (September 6/9, 1901 - October 29, 2001) left a great and significant trace in the Serbian science. By this remembrance author wish to express his respect to this astronomer with big reputation, the colleague which devoted his life to astronomy. Milorad Protitch is the person which author get to know on beginning of his own astronomical carriere, and stay in contact with him to the ende of his life. These memories have properties of sociological analysis, which signed how the questions and problems of common interest can connect people in the same proffesion, consciously or subconsciously, and how important and sincere is this relation.