INDIAN ACADEMY OF SCIENCES

Journal of Astrophysics and Astronomy (JAA) is a quarterly journal published by the Indian Academy of Sciences, Bangalore, India. Begun in 1980, JAA publishes refereed papers of original research on all aspects of Astrophysics and Astronomy including instrumentation, laboratory astrophysics and cosmology. Critical reviews of important fields are also published.

Founded in 1934 by Sir C V Raman, the Indian Academy of Sciences publishes 10 journals in different disciplines in science. Since 2007, all journals are being co-published with Springer. Along with hyperlinks to other relevant sites, Springer provides access to the journals' content worldwide in an online full text database on Springerlink (www.springerlink.com). Full-text downloads of all the Academy's journals continue to be available free of cost on the website of the Academy (www.ias.ac.in).

The publishing policy of the Academy includes:

- Manuscript submission and processing through a user-friendly, online submission and review management system
- Rigorous scrutiny by peer reviewers
- Rapid processing of manuscripts from submission to publication
- Enhanced impact factor
- Subsidized subscription rates
- Special issues on topical themes also published
- Covered by Current Contents and major abstracting and indexing services
- The Indian Academy of Sciences journals are open access affording full-text view and free of cost downloads, including its back issues, on the Academy's website
- The copyright of all published material will vest with the Academy.
- Authors of published papers will gain rights to reproduce their published work with proper citation of source, though explicitly only towards research and academic dissemination of science.
